Chairman's Message

Since our Club Development Plan has been completed in its first stage, it is obvious that the range of our facilities and amenities has altered considerably and we now have more to offer members in practically all departments. However, just how we can make the best and most popular use of these is a question whose answer is not as simple as it may at first seem.

Your Committee has been, and still is, considering various schemes in this direction and is trying out some of them as opportunity offers and occasion demands.

For instance, we had many approaches, particularly from our younger members, to serve food on the second floor in the buffet/bar on Friday nights. This seemed a reasonable request and it was thought that the provision of light meals would enable those without the time to spare for a more leisurely meal in the dining room to utilise the Club when otherwise they would not.

In consequence, this service went into operation on the second floor in April.

While it is, perhaps, a little early to form definite conclusions, the support this innovation has received to date has not been as great as the number of requests we received for it suggested it would be.

This is just one example of how your Committee may have to cast about a little to ascertain just what innovations members really want and are prepared to support as distinct from those they appear to want.

This brings me to another point.

While, naturally, every member is a completely free agent, those who really have the interests of the Club at heart are just as conscientious in fulfilling their obligations to Tattersall's as they are in pressing for additional or different amenities and services.

CLUB NEWS & VIEWS

CAN'T SETTLE DOWN . . . YET

One of our members whose job takes him out of Australia a lot is John Douglas. John holds the responsible and interesting position of Director of Rural Broadcasts for the Australian Broadcasting Commission and has to represent his country on various occasions, particularly in the East. It was only last month that he returned from his latest trip—this time to various countries where his duties kept him pretty busy and left him little time to relax. It is John's hope that he can settle down a little at home from now on but, before doing so, he has at least one more journey to make in connection with his work. He will be going to Singapore in the very near future. We hope this is a successful tour for you, John, and after it your hopes will be realised and you will be able to spend more uninterrupted time in Australia, particularly in Tattersall's where you have so many friends.

OFF TO SEE THE WORLD

Some of Sid Parker's friends farewelled him recently prior to leaving for Austria, where he plans to stay for some time and then to visit other countries on his way home.

Members were saddened by the sudden death of Shirley Williams, the young and popular wife of member Ray Williams and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Chapple. We know that the scores of tributes expressed by members and friends relieved the immediate grief, especially as Ray's mother, after a long illness, had died only a week before his wife.

To the families of Ray Williams and Clyde Chapple we extend our sincere condolences in their sad loss.

WOT! NONE FROM CAIRO

Postcards were received by Chairman Frank Carberry from John Peoples who was enjoying his holiday in London. Two from Pat Porter to Bill Sellen from Honolulu and Japan. Also one from Pat to Committeeman Alf Collins from Chicago. All wish to be remembered to their friends at the Club.

DOWN ON THE FARM

All know of Jack Mahoney's association with the Legal World and his ability as a snooker and billiard player, but few of us know of his rural activities on the land out Mulgoa way, where he has become an expert with a tractor and, along with genial Paul from the barber shop, quite an expert with the bees.

VALE - GEOFF ADAMS

Shortly before going to press it was learned that member Geoff Adams had collapsed and died suddenly on Anzac Day. His untimely death came as a great shock to all those who had known him, especially as he collapsed after hitting off for a round of golf, a game which he loved. He was a well known and popular member, and was also the editor of the Club's magazine.

Geoff is survived by his wife, Edith, and three young children, and to them we extend our sincere sympathy at this sad time. The Club and his friends will be all the poorer for his passing.

STAN LAMOND ILL IN MELBOURNE

All readers of this column will be sorry to hear that Stan Lamond, recently retired trainer and one of Sydney's best-known racing identities over many decades, was ill last month. A report reached us that he had been admitted to St. Andrew's Hospital in Cathedral Street, Melbourne. At the time of going to press full details of Stan's illness were not available but it is assumed that he was taken ill while on a visit to Melbourne. We all hope that his indisposition is of a minor nature and that he will be on his way back to Sydney and Tattersall's Club in the very near future. In the meantime, very best wishes from your very many friends in the Club, Stan.

CLAUDE MOORE TAKEN ABACK

It is rarely that we see Committeeman Claude Moore in anything but perfect health and in possession of that virility which makes many members very much his junior in years seem slow footed in comparison. Unfortunately this was not the case last month when Claude suffered from that complaint which is probably more common to the human race than any other—a bad back. This necessitated a stay in bed for Claude but, fortunately, it was not of very long duration and he is now out and about again looking none the worse for his enforced rest. All members are sorry to hear about your immobilisation, Claude, and hope that your present good health will continue for the future.

BON VOYAGE PARTY IN CLUB

The Function Room in the Club was the scene of a happy gathering on Tuesday the fourth of last month, when life member Bill Sellen held a farewell party for two of our very well known members who were off on overseas trips. The members, who by this time will be well on their way, were Pat Porter and Syd White, both of whom were to be accompanied by their wives. There were no less than seventeen members present to bid them bon voyage on the fourth and the excellent menu provided by the Club chef Danny (the squab was beaut) did ample justice to the occasion. Amongst those who attended the function were Club chairman, Frank Carberry, Committeeman Alf Collins and our Secretary, Lyal Binns. Although scheduled as a lunchtime affair it is understood that by the time it finished it could almost have been classified as a cocktail party. All members wish Pat, Syd and their respective wives a delightful trip and a happy return to our shores when it is over.

FACT-FINDING VISIT FROM BRISBANE
TATTERSALL'S

John Delaney, president of Tattersall's Club, Brisbane, and Ron Clelland, secretary of that club, paid Sydney a visit last month. However, it was no pleasure jaunt for they were here to inspect as many of Sydney's larger clubs as possible in an endeavour to keep abreast of general club trends. While in our city they were guests of our chairman, Frank Carberry. Frank made arrangements for them to see the appropriate clubs in Sydney and with our secretary, Lyal Binns, accompanied them on a tour of these organisations. Our Brisbane friends were quite impressed with the trends in clubs, both in facilities and amenities, and expressed satisfaction at the opportunity of making the tour. It was most gratifying for us to learn that they were particularly taken with our own Club and told Frank Carberry that, while they had seen clubs with larger memberships than Tattersall's they had seen none better. Tattersall's members in Sydney send best wishes to John Delaney and Ron Clelland and would like them to know that it was a pleasure to have them in the Club during their visit.

ON THE SICK LIST

Club Members will be sorry to hear that The Hon. W. Sheahan (Billy to all) is out of action with an attack of Hepatitis. Bill, we at the club wish you a speedy recovery, and look forward to seeing you up and about shortly.

THE OLD AND BOLD

Anzac Day saw a record number of members and their friends gather on the 1st floor to remember their comrades from the first and other wars including the present one. Business was so good that Lyal Binns had to call on the "Office" for assistance in coping with the crowd. A great day, many yarns were told, many toasts were drunk and a good time was had by all.

OUR FLYING DOCTOR

Congratulations to Dr. Norman Rose who has been appointed President of the New South Wales division of the Royal Flying Doctor Service. A worthy President for a worthy cause.

IMPORTANT TRIP

When member John Moon left our shores last month he had a most interesting world trip ahead of him—one which exemplifies his unselfish contribution to a worthy cause. As the District Governor nominee for Rotary District 268 he was heading eventually for Nice to attend the world convention of Rotary International. District 268 comprises about half of Sydney, taking in as it does the north side of the harbour. However, John is not due in Nice until the 21st May and, prior to that, he will visit Moscow, Berlin, Warsaw and Leningrad on business connected with Rotary. He has another interesting stop on his way, too, and that is Thailand. John has been District Chairman of the Youth Exchange for the last two years. This organisation places children from various countries, including Thailand and Japan, and on his arrival in Bangkok he will be greeted by the parents of the Thai children involved in the scheme. This will be a great moment for John for he is most enthusiastic about his work in this area and the general good it is doing in the interests of better international relations. This is certainly a most worthwhile trip and all members of Tattersall's hope it will be a most successful and rewarding one for John. They also congratulate him on his extensive contribution to Rotary over recent years. John has indicated that he will be writing of his progress while overseas, so we can look forward to hearing more of him in these pages in the future.

SINCERE THANKS

As many of his friends in the Club will know, prominent member Tim Renensson suffered an illness recently. We are happy to report that he is now back to good health again and we sincerely wish him a continuation of this happy state for the future. Tim has written us a special letter asking that we pass on his appreciation for the kindness shown to him by Tattersall's members during his illness. Tim writes:

"I would appreciate it if you would be so kind as to publish in the next issue of Tattersall's Magazine my sincere thanks to all members who have shown me so much kindness and sympathy during my recent illness."

Thanks for your letter, Tim, and once again our best wishes for continued good health.

FOR THE UNDERDOG

It is a regrettable fact, known only too sadly to some rugby league fans and only too gladly to others, that Eastern Suburbs hold the franchise on the "wooden spoon" and have done for some little time past. However, there is one of the team's fans who never gives up hope and is always optimistic of his team's chances. This is none other than well-known member Maurice O'Sullivan, patron of the club, who, as one of its most enthusiastic barrackers, has rarely missed a match over the last decade. Needless to say Saturday, 15th April, was a great day for Maurice for, as fans will know, that was the occasion when Easts scored its first point in the league table for 26 matches—in fact since the second round of the competition in 1965. That Maurice's excitement knew no bounds was vouched for by those members who saw him at the match and witnessed his reaction when the final whistle blew that day on a draw between Easts and Newtown, made possible by team member Kevin Ashley's snap field goal ten seconds before full time. Your Club friends hope that a new era has been ushered in for this team, which has no more staunch supporter than you, Maurice. Since the above was written Easts have notched a further two points.

HAVE YOU ANY TROPHIES?

Either through personal inspection or through photographs in this journal, all members will now be familiar with the decor of our Sportsman's Room in the basement of the Club. Amongst other things, its atmosphere is established by the use of various "trophies" hanging on the walls and these include such things as animal heads, spears, etc.

However, to properly decorate the room, more of this type of thing is needed and it is requested that any member who may have such trophies and finds no use for them might care to donate them to the Club.

Such things as old firearms, swords, spears, shields, whips, horse brass and similar items would be most appropriate and their donation would be greatly appreciated.

If you are in a position to make a contribution of this sort, either phone the Club Secretary and make arrangements for delivery or simply bring them into the Club office.

KEN McDONALD SNOOKER CHAMP!

Watched by the biggest crowd in many years, Ken McDonald triumphed over George Mousally in a ding dong battle for championship honours. The evergreen George was able to subdue Ken in their first frame by 74 points to 47, which was quite a thrashing and sufficient to fill the average contestant with considerable trepidation with regard to the outcome of the next frame. However, it's very difficult to daunt our boy Ken, and he came back with a vengeance to win the second frame 56 points to George's 14. In the deciding frame, Ken, having really got his eye in, kept up the pressure and ran out the winner by 59 points to 38.

Both Ken and George proved to be worthy finalists of a championship and both were in scintillating form. The very large gallery many times punctuated the otherwise deathly silence with applause for masterly shots by both Ken and George, and it was agreed that it was the finest demonstration of Snooker at its best that has been seen in our own tournaments for many a long day. Of course, George has to be content with playing second fiddle to Ken in the Snooker, but as has become his habit over recent years, George just has to ring up number one in one of our championships. This he did in the final of our billiards championship, which he won by defeating Jack Chown.

Congratulations to both you Champs, and to Jack Chown for his improved and determined bid for the honours.

Our congratulations also go to Angus Foster who defeated Tom Farrar in the final of the Billiards Handicap Tournament, sorry that you missed out Tom. As an item of interest we would like to mention that the honours for compiling the biggest break in this Tournament go to Arthur Miller who put together a 55 break in a semi final. Congratulations to you, Arthur.

So that's that as far as our unavoidably interrupted 1966 tournaments are concerned. The presentation of trophies to the deserving winners remain and plans are well in hand for these to be awarded at a Grand Function to be held in our Main Club Room on a date to be fixed. Watch our Notice Boards for details of this gala event.

Unquestionably, our 1966 tournaments proved to be a great source of interest and enjoyment for a very large number of our members—BUT! Off with the old and on with the new.

Elsewhere in this magazine full details of our 1967 tournaments are announced.

10th Annual Visit to Mungo Brush

On the tenth annual sojourn to Mungo Brush, organised by Les Tidmarsh and Ron Williams and attended by 32 members mostly from Tattersalls Club and their friends from Cronulla, the weather was not too kind.

This is a fabulous two weeks for those who want to get away from it all and more or less go native.

Leaving Sydney on Wednesday after the races you spend the night at Tea Gardens Hotel.

The following morning after breakfast we leave Tea Gardens on an Oyster barge done up like Cleopatra's with a band at one end and a barman with liquid refreshments at the other. To the strains of "Anchors away" we are towed up the Myall river to Mungo Brush about 20 miles.

Piano, beds and all gear are sent up by road to the dance hall and picnic grounds at Mungo.

There we rough it with a paid chef, a five piece band, two local fishermen to supply our demands such as opening a bag of oysters, getting us prawns, and catching a good supply of good fish. We also rough it with six kerosine refrigerators, numerous porta gas lights, a special ice box for refrigerated beer pulled through refrigerated pipes and the latest gas plant.

Our barman, ex-jockey Arthur Stead, does a mighty job also with plenty of scotch and ice with soda.

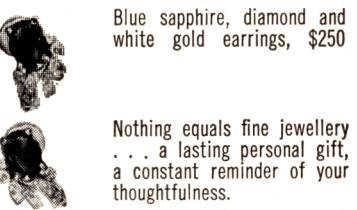

Our dining set-up is on the verandah around the hall. Six o'clock is cocktail hour with savouries and music. Dinner is served around 7.30 and for those who want to back up there is plenty. The only complaint is there are no waiters. After dinner is the liquid session for those wanting to hear a few stories and wash their dinner down.

A day on the lake on Sunday with the usual hardships plus a smorgasboard lunch on board. Also two speed boats if you fancy yourself at aqua planing.

Arduous climb to be King of the Ring

Some scions of well-to-do families journey to England in search of the higher realms of education such as Oxford and Cambridge provide but, freshly out of his teens, Les Tidmarsh went there to fulfil an entirely different aspiration.

After a brief apprenticeship as a bookmaker at Randwick and the former pony and provincial courses, he sailed in 1936 for England to advance his education in what has long been recognised as the world's toughest school of bookmaking.

He came home broke after two years' experience. The miracle was that he stood up to the battle that long.

But the experience laid the foundation for one of the most brilliant careers in the history of the Sydney betting ring.

Another factor in the ultimate success of his bookmaking was that Les studied accountancy in his teens. It was a wise decision on the part of his late father, Mr. Walter Tidmarsh, to afford the correct grasp of figures. It was strange that Mr. Les Tidmarsh and his brothers J W (Bill) and Cliff should turn to bookmaking for their careers, for their father was one of the keenest punters Australia ever produced. He was never a big punter in the manner of modern Leviathans who invest thousands. He was content with much smaller investments, but with a profound knowledge of form and the intricacies of racing, he made a steady income from the turf, which, besides providing a handsome budget for the family, enabled him to invest in sound business propositions.

Mr. Les Tidmarsh began bookmaking 38 years ago, first with the former A.R.C. Clubs of Sydney then worked up to a Randwick paddock licence. In 1936, he decided to try English fielding, and set off with Edgar Forsyth, another young Sydney operator and a veteran, Sol Goldhill, who had settled in Sydney after earlier English experience. They took out tickets for Royal Ascot, Epsom and all the important venues, down to Northolt Park, a small suburb of London course.

After two years he returned to Sydney with his finances cleaned out and then came the second World War, for which he enlisted with the A.I.F. and saw service in the Middle East and was discharged with a spinal injury in 1943.

Temporarily he worked with his brother Bill in the paddock on Sydney provincial and country courses and finally returned under his own licence to the paddock at Randwick and other city courses. Temporarily, when the boom came, he went to provincial courses in the early 1950s but, after a very heavy loss at a Hawkesbury meeting in 1955, he confined his bookmaking to city courses. His brothers Bill and Cliff (Melbourne events) have been making a book successfully in the paddock for 35 years.

Les' father, affectionately known as "Wo", was popular with the smaller bettors on the racecourse because he differed from other big punters of the self-important type. He would stop and give a tip to a dollar bettor at any of the city, provincial or country courses, he attended. He never missed a race meeting in his life.

He owned and raced many horses and, in that respect, his son, Les, has followed the family custom with Balearic, Segovia (whom he once thought was a Derby prospect), El Greco, Pharmacy and Leloch. He was fortunate in getting Randwick wins with all, but none aspired to important form. "Still, they gave me plenty of interest," he comments. "It is a fine feeling to see your horse win at headquarters in your own colours when you have not laid it, and have told your friends to be on it. In fact, it would be hard to pick a more exhilarating experience."

Mr. Les Tidmarsh has a wide interest in varied forms of sport and business. He is Vice-President of Coogee-Dover Golf Club, the oldest social body of its kind in Australia with 37 years of history. He swims with the Bondi Icebergs and has been Trustee for many years. He did much to organise the affairs of Cronulla Surf Life Saving Club and acted as an instructor for many years.

He is a Director of the Lion Tile and Tuck Nott Bricks subsidiaries, owner of the Hotel Tea Gardens, Tidmarsh and Williams developers and builders, and Chairman of Directors of Lennox Land and Building Development and subsidiaries.

With such a background of sport and business it is not surprising that friends prevailed upon him to stand for Tattersall's Club Committee, to which he was elected in September, 1958, after a Club membership extending over 17 years.

Mr. Tidmarsh has been an assiduous worker as Committee-man of the Lord Mayor's Command Performance, which stages a rich annual show for charity at Sydney Town Hall and last year presented a cheque for $12,000. With his wife, Millicent—"Red" to family intimates, and daughter, Lee, just turned 21, the family in fact is deeply involved in numerous charities, including the Deaf and Blind, of which Mrs. Tidmarsh was President, and the Town and Country Smith Family—for which she acts on the Committee.

Life has kept Miss Lee Tidmarsh pretty busy. She spent 2½ years finishing her education in Switzerland, where she became an expert skier. She passed in every phase but, unfortunately, the year she was to take her speed test Nature played a mean trick. Everybody agreed that she would top all comers. But there was insufficient snow to conduct the test. However, her proficiency in the snow sport was never better exemplified than by her selection to represent N.S.W. in last year's International at Thredbo, and competing against the best from Canada and Japan she finished seventh. Miss Tidmarsh is also an expert water skier and has been asked to train with the N.S.W. squad.

Mr. Tidmarsh has been the king of the Sydney ring for the last 20 years. His colossal bets continue to amaze onlookers. But customary courtesy to backers embraces the small and the gigantic. That is what racegoers like about this leader of the rails ring. Biggest wager of recent times was the $24,000 he laid about El Gordo for last year's Derby. The punter took $24,000 to $2,000. Mr. Tidmarsh did not turn down the price while the backer walked away. Suddenly he looked back and noted that the price was still 6/1. "Can I have the same bet again?" he asked. Mr. Tidmarsh agreed.

And so the two bets aggregated the noble figure of $48,000 to $8,000 and, leading all the way, El Gordo beat the favourite, Garcon, without ever looking like a loser.

Not long after the Derby, part-owner Mr. De laSala came by to be congratulated—smoking a cigar two feet long!

Other bets of up to $40,000 have frequently appeared in Mr. Tidmarsh's book at the big carnivals, but Les thinks that, temporarily, betting has diminished since the change-over to dollars. He says the average punter who formerly put £100 on a horse is now satisfied with $100 (£50) just by force of the habit inspired by the new currency and without any premeditated resolution to cut his wagering.

"But," he adds, "throughout my career in the ring, Sydney has always been an amazing centre for betting on the thoroughbreds and, as long as there are racecourses, I think it will always remain so."

Tattersall's Bowlers In Adelaide

On Sunday, 2nd April, 15 members of the Bowling Section, led by President Dr. Fuz Porter, flew out of Sydney bound for the second interstate carnival of the Turf Bowlers of Australia Association, which was held in Adelaide. The host club was the Democratic Club of Adelaide.

Upon their arrival 142 bowlers from all States, including the A.C.T., were welcomed and given a sample of the hospitality they were to enjoy during the week. This year Western Australia's name was added to the list, bringing the number of competitors to eight.

Games were played at Kensington Gardens, Lockleys and Holdfast Bay clubs.

Tattersall's did not fare well in the series, winning only two games — against Newcastle and Melbourne. The result was in doubt right up to the last round of matches. The favourites, City Tattersall's, were beaten by Newcastle, and Canberra went on to win the series, which now puts their name on the trophy.

The most successful teams were those led by Len Burke and Jim Weymark. At the dinner and presentation on the final night everyone agreed that Adelaide's President, George Tennant, and Secretary, Charlie Gunn, had done a wonderful job in presenting such excellent greens for the games, as well as unsurpassed hospitality, all of which led to a very memorable week.

In Adelaide, trophy winners at Kensington Gardens on March 6 were Keith Manion, Bill Burke and Harold Hill.

It was decided unanimously that next year's carnival would be held in the Federal Capital of Canberra.

President Fuz Porter gives Mark Barnett a large pat on the back in his efforts in helping keep the boys in order, and also for acting as the workhorse to the party. Many thanks, Mark.

Back on the home front, we saw good attendances at the final of the Don Wilson Trophy, with further heats of the pairs handicap and the trophy games scheduled for each Thursday.

Harry Davis played well to win the Don Wilson Trophy by nine points from Nick Solomon.

In one of the best games seen for a long time in the pairs handicap, Harold Relton and Noel Hough defeated Morris Cameron and Alf Willis by 34 to 33. With the scores at 33 all on the last end, Noel drew the shot with his last bowl to lie game. Then Alf had a toucher with the last bowl to come only to see the jack move over to his opponent's bowl.

Back at home on April 6 at City the winners were Clive Hoole, Jim Williams and Gordon Booth; on April 13 at Waverley Bill Stiffe, Morrie Cameron and Charles Lavigne; on April 20 at Rose Bay Keith Manion, Arthur Miller and Gordon Lovett.

WINOOKA TROPHY COMPETITION

New Draw for Quarter Finals as follows:

Bruce Galea .....
v.
Bruce Partridge .....

Winner of Galea/Partridge
v.
Charles Robinson .....

Winner

Robert Hill .....
v. Robert Hill 41/20
Ron Spencer .....

Don Stait .....
v.
Bruce Chiene .....

This has been a very slow competition. However, Norman Rogers, our secretary, promises some action and he expects to finalise the event within the next few weeks. Already one match has been completed in which Robert Hill defeated Ron Spencer by 41-20. Robert was much too good and as the score indicates had an easy win.

We are looking forward to the match between our old rivals, the two "Bruces". They always put on a brilliant exhibition and I am sure that this match will be no exception.

There's a lot to be said for the old adage 'too many cooks spoil the broth' but it certainly doesn't apply to travel! And there are over 400 Cooks offices in 57 countries to prove it!

Sophisticated travellers know how valuable it can be to have the man from Cooks' close at hand when needed. And remember too — Cooks handle every type of travel from Conducted Tours to Independent Travel — at no extra charge for their 125 years of experience.

I must warn the winner that whichever Bruce it is he can look forward to a very tough match against Charles Robinson. Charles, on his handicap of +19 will be very hard to beat, and we will not be surprised to see him defeat either of the two "Bruces".

The other match between Don Stait and Bruce Chiene should also be very even and could go either way.

Sam Block completed a trip abroad during the year 1966, and since returning to our midst he has had itchy feet. The itch is so great that he informs us that he is planning another world tour towards the end of this year. Good luck to you, Sam, and best regards to Nell. Have a good time.

It was also nice to read in the daily press that one of our former handballers has won the top post in the Olympic Sports Federation. I refer, of course, to Bill Berge Phillips, who has been elected president of that organisation. Congratulations, Bill, we always knew that the experience which you gained with Tattersall's Club Swimming and Handball Clubs would be of great help to you eventually.

Congratulations to Clive Hoole. It was nice to see Clive back in the Club after a few days spent in the War Memorial Hospital. A slight "op" put things right and Clive is looking forward to dashing off to Surfers where he tells us that a certain beverage with XXXX on the label is very good.

SWIMMING NOTES

This month we have seen Leigh Bowes and ex club champion Bill Kendall take the month's honours in the pool with splendid performances.

Leigh took on regular racing this season after being unable to participate for quite a while, and it has not taken him long to show real form in winning the March-April point score with three firsts and a third in finals, to tally only two points less than the possible.

Bill Kendall, who held the Club Championship for many years, was cheered loudly when, in his first race of the season, he won a 40-yard heat in the snappy time of 19.2 seconds, and the final in 19.8. It was great to see this very fine sportsman in action again, and the members certainly appreciated his performance. It must not be forgotten that Bill was the first Australian to break the minute for 100 metres.

Berry Innes was second to Leigh Bowes in the monthly point score, and has been swimming particularly well.

In the current point score series speedy David Cohen leads Jim Comans and Stan Heaton by two points with only two races to go, which will make an exciting climax.

Jim has not been in the winning list for quite a time, and his win in a Brace Relay with Stan Heaton as his partner must have cheered him up considerably.

In the "Native Son" series for most points scored during the season, John Cunningham retains his lead but David Cohen is lessening the gap, and at the time of writing, was only nine and a half points further back in fourth position. Cohen is in a good position as Cunningham has lost a second from his handicap.

The last four races continued to attract good fields, with an average of 44 starters.

Best times of the month were: 19.2 and 19.8, Bill Kendall; 19.5 David Emanuel; 20.2, twice, David Cohen; 20.3 John Cunningham; 21.5 and 21.8 David Whitehead.

Improvement in times has been a feature of recent races, the two stars being David Bruce and Chris Dobbyns, both having their handicaps reduced by two seconds. David is most enthusiastic about his swimming and improves all the time, with his most recent effort of 33.7 being easily his best to date.

Chris Dobbyns must have been putting in some keen training and from his remarks before his last race he expected to surprise the members. This he certainly did as he won his heat easily in 27.7, and the final in 27.1 from a handicap of 30 seconds.

These were not the only improvers as Ron Spencer, Leigh Bowes, David Dind, Sid Kay, Derek Jackson and Bill Kendall all had a second lopped from their handicaps.

David Whitehead, captain of Eastern Suburbs Rugby Union Firsts, has been going well despite having had several stitches in his head from a football injury. Twice during the month he broke 22 seconds for the two laps.

Phil Winn has moved to Melbourne but in the last race before he left he won a heat. Phil says he will be returning to Sydney on occasions, and it is a safe bet that he will join in the races when he is here. The Winn's are in the news in another way as Poppa Frank's daughter, Jan, presented him with a grandson a couple of weeks ago.

Bluett, K. Brown, D. Keating and J. Edmonds (9), A. Hickey, P. Edmonds, B. Phillips, C. Robinson and C. Dobbyns (8).

"Native Son" Point Score:

Leaders in this series, for all points scored during the season, are: J. Cunningham (130½); D. Cohen (121); D. Bruce (112); M. Sernack (111); T. Forrest (109½); N. Rogers and S. Kay (104); J. Ward (102); J. Keating (101); D. Dind (98); C. Coppa (97½); G. McGrath (97); G. Williams (94½); D. Jackson (92½); C. Robinson (91½); B. Mortensen (91); K. Brown (89); S. Heaton (87½); W. J. Orme (86½); W. Rowe (86); D. Whitehead (85).

Inaugural Golf Day

It is with deepest regret that we have to advise members of the Golf Club of the sad demise of our President, Geoff Adams. He collapsed and died suddenly on the first fairway at Pennant Hills Golf Club on Anzac Day. Those who knew Geoff personally will mourn his death with much sorrow. His loss to the golfing section will be greatly felt by all who participated in our inaugural game at the Lakes recently, as we are all aware of the sterling efforts put in by Geoff in the organisation and commencement of the golf section. His untiring efforts were undoubtedly the reason for the outstanding success of our first day and our annual meeting. We all knew Geoff as a very fine fellow sportsman, and he will be sadly missed by all.

The first match of the newly incorporated Golf Club was played at the Lakes Golf Club on Thursday, 13th April last, and we are pleased to advise that the four-ball-best-ball stableford was won by our late President, Geoff Adams off 13/10 and Allan Black off 9/7. The runners-up for this event were W. J. (John) Brown off 24/18 and J. E. Gregory off 22/17. The individual event was won by W. J. Brown with 42 points. Congratulations to these players on their success on this inaugural day.

82 players hit off the first tee which was a very encouraging roll-up for the initial day's outing. Many members wondered why the last pair to hit off only played a twosome over nine holes, but having seen the cards returned by the Club's Chairman, Frank Carberry and the Secretary, Lyal Binns, it would seem to indicate to members that they hit off late in order to be sure that nobody could watch their game — in other words their cards were too good to be true . . .

Following the game an excellent buffet dinner was provided by the catering staff at the Lakes which was enjoyed by all. Our sincere thanks go to the President of the Lakes Golf Club, Mr. Fogerty, the Secretary/Manager, Mr. Merv Barnes, and to the Captain of the Club, Mr. Angus Foster.

The first annual meeting, very capably handled by our esteemed late President, was well attended and the following office bearers were duly elected for the ensuing twelve months:

President: G. T. Adams.

Hon. Treasurer: V. N. Vadas.

Committee: J. C. Garrity, H. C. Higson, I. G. L. Bell, A. C. Black, G. A. Eastment.

Hon. Secretary: L. J. Binns.

Trophies won during the day were presented at the meeting, and the members wish to pass a vote of thanks to the donors of these trophies, Messrs. George Watson, A. J. Chown and Bill Longworth, and to Committeeman, Clare Higson, who made the necessary arrangements for the trophies on behalf of the Committee prior to his trip overseas. All in all, it does seem that our golfing section has got away to a fine start.

It is regretted that a more complete coverage of the golf together with details of future dates and venues could not be published here, as members of the Golf Club will realise that our late President was also the editor of Tattersall's magazine, and he had not had the opportunity to complete the full coverage of our first meeting as intended in his efficient manner.

However, he had previously arranged for the next golf day to be held at Pennant Hills on Tuesday, 30th May, with hit-off times between 12.00 and 1.30 from both first and tenth tees.

Further information regarding the Club and its activities will be forwarded to members by circular in the near future.
